TROUBLE AT LANCASTER—NO SEPARATION WANTED.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 4.—Columbia, this county, has a large colored population, and the question of separate schools for white and colored pupils has been under agitation for a long time. The public schools opened this morning, the school board having provided separate schools with colored teachers for the colored children.

This did not suit the colored parents who accompanied their children to the white schools and demanded their admission. This was refused, and the colored children were directed to go to their own schools. In the meantime the report was circulated that the colored children were being admitted, and the parents of many of the white pupils appeared on the scene and took their children away. The question is still open with both sides showing no evidence of giving in.

WEST END NOTES.

Fifth Anniversary Fifth Street Baptist Church Choir, Rev. D. Tucker

Will Preach The Sermon.

All day next Sunday, 9th, the choir of the Fifth Baptist Church will celebrate its 5th anniversary. They have invited the former pastor, Rev. Daniel Tucker to preach on that occasion.

Rev. Tucker will preach morning, afternoon and night. Rev. D. Tucker is known far and wide as one among the ablest pulpits orators we have. He is popular with the members of his former charge as well as in the community.

The choir under the leadership of Prof. W. H. White, knowing that the church is far behind financially has invited Rev. Tucker to preach and tell the friends to come out and help them aid the church in their efforts to pay off their debt.

Each sermon will be a gem in itself, so don't fail to be present. A rare, rich, and spicy treat is in store for all, at each sermon.

The West end Gun Club carried off three prizes in the contest with the East End Gun Club last Monday, the 3rd. Hurrah for our boys!
